Miscellaneous.

Why do not Free Traders Make Iron?

From the New York Tribune.

We have, for years, pressed this question upon the public attention, insisting that it deserved an answer. Here are nearly half the American people who are led to believe that enormous profits are daily realized by the American makers of Iron, especially of Pig Iron. But this branch of industry is free and open to all; and it is a simpler business to run an iron furnace than to work a farm.—The raw materials—Ore, Coal, Lime—abound on every side, and in almost every State; they have little or no pecuniary value; and they are owned by Free-Traders as well as by Protectionists. It is a very simple matter to build a furnace or stack; thousands stand ready to do it promptly and well; or, if you choose, there are lots of furnaces now out of blast that can be bought for less than their cost. Suppose it to be true that the duty on Pig Iron ($9 per ton) is, in effect, a bounty to the producer, enabling him to sell his Iron for nearly or quite that amount over the cost of producing it, why don't the Free Traders rush into the business, share the profit, and ultimately reduce the price? What is the reason that Iron is an exception to the law of Supply and Demand, which even Free Traders recognize as operative with regard to everything not affected by the Tariff?

We have at length driven one of them to answer, through The Evening Post,—Here is what he says, and all he says, on the Main Question:

"The amount of capital which must be invested in the production of iron is enormous, if it is to be made profitable. It should possess an iron and coal region, and erect works that would cost a very large sum of money. Those who may have the disposition to divert their capital from other profitable employment have been often told by Protectionists that the business cannot be pursued without positive loss, unless enormously protected by duties upon imports of iron that are almost prohibitory; and that, even with such Protection, the iron masters can barely sustain themselves. We do not believe this impression is correct. There are many facts which tend to throw discredit upon it; among which the great facilities for its production named in Mr. Greeley's article, above quoted from, are prominent. Yet, as their capital is all profitably invested, and they have methods of producing iron by exchanging American agricultural productions for it in foreign lands, where cotton, rice, wheat, beef, pork, cheese, flour, and other farm produce, are as much wanted as iron is wanted in this country, they prefer to keep their capital employed as it is, rather than divert it to other uses, the profit of which depends entirely upon the patronage of Government. If they should be persuaded, coaxed, jeered, shamed or driven into making American iron, by so diverting their capital from its present proper, profitable and judicious uses, they feel no assurance that the childish and iniquitous policy of the Government, which, according to Mr. Greeley, would have to be their sole dependence, and which they deem unjust, could be perpetuated. They would have to become the advocates of a Protective system which they detested, and they have too much confidence in the intelligence of the American people to believe that they will be the dupes and victims of such a policy long enough to enable them to make much profit out of the delusion."

Comments by the Tribune.

We defy any candid man to say that the substance of the above is not exactly this: The Free Traders do not believe what their own oracles tell them with regard to the profits of Iron-making, and do believe the statements on this point of the Protectionists. Read the above extract once more, very carefully, and see if it does not amount to just that.—Free Traders own millions of acres of Coal and Iron Ore; they would like to make money out of them; yet they hold off, and allow millions' worth of Pig Iron to be imported annually, in addition to all that is made in the country, because they know that the Free Trade clamor affirming the enormous profits of making Pig Iron is a swindle; and they prefer to be swindlers rather than swindled.

But they don't choose "to divert their "capital from other profitable employment" Certainly not, unless into one more profitable; and this they do not believe Iron-making to be. Here is Mr. A. T. Stewart, a zealous Free Trader, who returns an income for 1868 of over Three Millions of Dollars. This he invests mostly in city real estate, Hempstead plains, &c., as he has a perfect right to do. He might have invested it in Ore, Coal, &c., and run up a row of furnaces with all the latest improvements, from which he could have turned out two or three hundred thousand tons of Pig Iron per annum; but he chose to invest his money very differently. Do you suppose he would have done it if he believed there was $10 per ton profit in making Pig Iron? Do you believe he couldn't have made that if any one could?

Here is Com. Vanderbilt who, every year, requires for the railroads which he substantially controls several Millions of dollars worth of Steel and Iron. It has been practically settled by a generation's experience in running European railroads that each great Company sho'd roll its own rails, make its chairs, &c., not so much with an eye to profit as in order to be sure of uniform excellence in its material. A flaw often costs a company half a million dollars; and it can't afford to take any risk of flaws that can be avoided. We hope to announce ere long that the Central Company henceforth rolls and re-rolls every rail it puts down. It can put up works of the precise capacity indicated by its own wants; it can own its own coal and ore-beds, and concentrate its materials over its own lines cheaper than any other iron-maker could. It has a ready market and assured pay for every pound of Iron it can make. Yet, up to this hour, so far as we know, Com. Vanderbilt has made no Iron. Why? You know exactly why. He believes he can use his money to better advantage. And what he don't know in the matter of money-making, it isn't worth while to undertake to tell him.

Whether we ought or ought not to make Iron when it costs more (in dollars) than we could buy it for (in the absence of a Tariff) abroad, is a question on which we are not likely soon to agree with the Free Traders. They think it a losing business to make Pig Iron that costs $40 per ton when we might, by taking off the duty, buy it of England at $30 to $35 per ton. We, on the other hand, believe it would cost us far more in our labor or its products than it now does—that the fruits, grain, meat, vegetables, butter, wood, &c., &c., that we now sell to our Iron-makers would not be worth nearly what we now get for them if our Iron-making were transferred to Europe. That issue remains to be fought out; but we submit that the Free Trade outcry against "monopoly," "exorbitant profits," &c., in iron-making, is an exposed fraud—an exploded delusion.

A GOOD STORY FOR MODERATE DRINKERS.—An old friend of the late Judge Fletcher, of this city, related to the writer, many years ago, the following characteristic anecdote: Mr. Fletcher, when a young man, boarded in the old Exchange Coffee House. Without much consideration, he had fallen in with the drinking fashion of the day, so far as to have a glass of spirits and water brought to his room every night, to be taken on going to bed, as "a night-cap." One night an unusual press of company prevented the bar-keeper from carrying up Mr. Fletcher's usual night dram. The 'Squire didn't regard it as quite the thing for him to go to the bar and get his grog, and so he went to bed without his "night-cap." But to sleep, he could not. All night long he tumbled about for lack of his accustomed drink. And as he did so, his active and discriminating mind worked most diligently. The fruit of his reflections appeared next morning, when, on getting up weary and worn by his hard and restless night, Mr. Fletcher went directly to the bar-keeper: "Mr. ——, you didn't bring up my brandy and water last night, and as a consequence I have slept little or none all night."

The barkeeper was very sorry. This neglect should not occur again. "Not so," rejoined Mr. Fletcher, "never bring me another drop of liquor unless I order it. If it has come to this, that I can't sleep without the help of a tumbler of toddy, it is high time that I stopped drinking, and brake up the dangerous habit."

From that day Mr. Fletcher became a thorough-going temperance man.—Boston Traveller.

A TAIL OF A DOG.—No dorg to love, none to karess, how can I ever my sadness express? Chunck is defunct, ded as a nale, hushed is his barkin and still is his tail. O! such a tale—white on the end; opht did he chaise it with wiggle and bend, chaise it with hope, twisting around, till overcome, he roposed on the ground; now he's ekstingt, ded ez a nale, where am his bark and wag of his tale? In dreams alone, poor Chunck I see, swiggling his milk or else scratching a flee; 'tis but a dream, waking I weep, for under two feet of ground he does sleep O! butiful purp, vonst full of pla. Haven't I phed you day after day? Given you milk, given you bread, given you many a pat on yer head? Now you're ekstingt, dead as a nale, where am the bark an wag of your tail? No dorg to love, none to karess, vainly I strive the sad tears to repress. "Why did you dy?" sadli I morne; was it from pizen, or swallerin a bone? No waggin tale, no beaming eye, answrs a question or gives a repli. Was it a fit—or stoppage of breth—eatin 2 much the sad cause of yer deth? Still not a word, Chunck is defunct; ded as a nale, dim is his eye, stilled forever his tale.

AN aged Boston lady, whose failing sight rendered necessary a prayer book of great size, recently called on her friends on her way to church, and upon starting again unwittingly picked up a small music box instead of the prayer book. During the sacred ceremony the old lady attempted to open her prayer book, when to her surprise and the astonishment of the congregation, the reguish machine struck up "Lannigin's Ball" with great clearness and force.

OLD Bill W. was dying. He was an ignorant man and a very wicked one. Dr. D. an excellent physician and a very pious man, was attending him. The old fellow asked for bread. The Doctor approached the bedside, and in a very solemn tone remarked; "My dear friend, a man cannot live from bread alone." "No," said the old fellow slightly revived, "he's 'bleged to have a few vegetables." The subject was dropped.

A gentleman once thus addressed a letter to his bride:

"My dearest Maria." The lady replied: "My dear John, I beg that you will mend either your morals or your grammar.—You call me dearest Maria; am I to understand that you have other Marias?"

To the poor owe nothing.
Or the rich ask nothing.

The Nomination of Rosecrans in Ohio —A Dream.

PEPPER'S TAVERN, Holmes county, O., Jooly 12, 1869.—I left the Corners the day after I lost my position, and without any special purpose, wandered up into my old stampin grounds in Ohio. I wuz received with a cerjality wich affected me perfoundly. Them wich hed bin turned out uv offises cood sympathize with me, and them wich hed never got em, felt it still more deeply, ez they eggzaggerate the benefits to be derived from offishl position, and actilly wonder how a man wich ever held an offis kin survive decapitashen.

I hed no difficulty in borrowin enuff dollars uv the sturdy yeomanry uv this section to not only keep me afloat here for a time, but to pervide agin a passage through an Ablishn country, ef sich need be. My expenses here will be light, ez I am boardin and drinkin on tick exclusively. I told the landlord the first day to mark it down, ez it wuz inconvenient to make change fifty times per day. He possibly may wish he had taken the trouble to make change.

The day after the Democratic State Convenshen at Columbus, we held a informal meetin uv the Democracy at the tavern, to wich I was stayin, the most uv the veterans bein there. The sceen reminded me uv Bascom's so much, that I actilly shed teers. Dimocricy is alike everywhere. Ther wuz the bar, with the big-bellied bottle with tansy in it; ther wuz the box uv pipes, the two lemons wich are doomed never to be yoosed, ez lemon-joose weakens likker; ther wuz Pepper, the landlord, with his sleeves rolled up, a leanin onto his elbows onto the bar; behind him a portrait uv Jackson on his fomin steed wavin his sword toward the British; beside it a hand-bill for a mass Convenshun uv the Destrick last year, commencin with the trooly orthodox line: "Do you want to marry a nigger?" in large black type, with a picture uv Wendell Phillips kissin a wench, at wich the Dimocracy have indignated regularly for ten years.—Seetid on bustid cheers, empty nail kegs, and leanin on the bar, wuz a group wich was simply a dooplikit uv the X Roads, and so akkerit that I caught myself sayin "Deekin" lots uv times. I sed "Captin" to a man who wuz so near like McPelter, ez to justify the suspicion that the father uv the present Hugh bed many yeers before bin a citizin uv that visinity, but I wuz keerful not to do so agin. Ketchin me by the throte, he sternly remarkt: "Sir! don't put any uv them titles onto me, sir. I wuz no Captin, thank Heven." He was satisfied when I told him that his remarkable resemblance to a Confederit Captin occasioned the mistake, wich pleased him so that he to wunst sekt me take suth'n. This opened a new field to me, when I worked. I diskivered to wunst an amazin resemblence between all uv em and distinguished Southern commanders.

While waitin the return uv Squire Pettibone, wich wuz a delegate to the State Convenshun we fell to talkin uv the old times wich tried men's soles, in the earlier years uv the war. Pepper, the landlord, gave a most affectin remeniscence uv the shootin uv two returned veterans in the very room in wich we sot. The spot on wich they fell, he hed put the stove over that it mite be kept sakred.—Mr. Bortle, an old saint, whose nose wuz lightin his pathway to the toom, hed a more tragical tale to tell. He wuz one of them wich sholdered his fowlin peece to resist the draft up in this county, and wuz taken by bloo coated hirelings, and carted off to Camp Chase, where he wuz kept in doorance vile for weeks, with nothin whatever to live onto but the yoosual rashens uv a soljer! One old relic uv the war, wich his name it wuz Babbitt, accompanied Vallandygum thro' the lines, which lines wuz commandid by Rosecrans. He wuz present when that accursed villain—that tool uv the despotic ape Linkin—hed the impudense to aboose our martyred Saint, and his blood biled ez he heered it. At this pint, the entire assemblage profaned. The letter uv Rosecrans to the Legislature uv Ohio wuz dooly read, and the audashus sentiments therein contained wuz dooly and emphatically damned. Ez the likker circulated, we got more and more enthusiastic on this pint, and our blood warmed and trobbed more violently thro' our veins ez we toasted Vallandygum, and forever and ever cursed the wretched hirelins who opprest him, and, thro' him, us.

Finally we heerd the rumblin uv wheels over the hill, and we knowd that it wuz Squire Pettibone a comin from the stashun with the news uv the convenshun. He drove up, and we rushed out to greet him.

"'Ror for—who shel we 'ror for?" exclaimed Pepper.

"For Ranney, uv course!" shouted one.

"For Vallandygum!" sed another.

"For Cary!" sed another.

"My friends!" shouted Pettibone, "My friends, 'ror for—Rosecrans and victory!"

"Wat?" remarkt a dozen uv us.

"Who?" remarkt the others,

"Hell!" remarkt the balance.

"None uv yoor jokes;" ejakilated Bortle.

And the astonisht Pettibone wuz in danger of bein roughly handled. But he finally convinst them that Rosecrans wuz reely and trooly the Dimocratic nominee, and that it was no joke watever.

I hed a great deal uv trouble with em. They wuz bound not to touch Rosecrans, and swore they had bin betrayed and sold out. The platform, however, saved us. When I read it to em, and explained how cleerly it condemned the war by refoosin to pay the indebtedness inkurred in prosekootin it, and how indignantly it spurned the administrashen, and so on, they became cool.

"Ef Rosecrans hez reely come to us," I sed, "let us open our arms and take him in." They retired not pleased, but in sich a state that I hev no doubt the heft uv em will vote, ez yoosual, an unscratched tickit. They look down Micklelan; why not Rosecrans?

That nite after I retired to my virchus couch, I fell unto a troubled sleep and dreemed. The dreem wich afflicted me wuz more instructive than entertainin.

Methawt the Dimocrisy uv Ohio wuz in council, seekin for a leeder in the comin conflick. They trotted out in review, all uv em, but they couldn't find a man in the party who wuz not so fearfully defective ez to be totally and entirely worthliss for the poseshen. Vallandygum wuz ez spotted ez a leper, Ranney wuz tinged with the rather advanced Dimocrisy uv 1863, and the other men spoken uv wuz full of politikle ulcers, biles and running sores. The munshen uv their names made the people hold their noses. One more wise than the rest, in a fit uv inspirashun sung out, "Rosecrans!" and the ijee hit em. Rosecrans wuz trotted out, and they all fell to admirin him. He wuz well bilt and comly, and his figger showd strength and endoorance. He wuz encased into a glitterin coat of bloo, onto wich shone the most gorgus decorashen wich could be conceeved. In letters uv lite uv exceedin brilliancy wuz the words, "West Virginy," "Stone River," "Iuky," and "Chicamauga," with the names uv other acheevments more or less notorious, and these decorashens with his epaulette, military sash and sword, spurs and sich, enveloped him, from head to foot, in a brilliancy, the gorgeousnis uv wich wuz beyond compare. The managers uv the show wich trotted him out, squinted more partikelerly at the multitood wich surrounded them, to see the effek wich it perdoost upon em, they slidin out uv site ez he advanst, so that they woodent obstruct the view. The site took the people—ther rose up from the throng a most enthoosiastic cheer, and hats went up into the air by the thousands.

"It'll do! it'll do! Thank the Lord it'll do!" shouted the managers, and they immejetly fell to embracin him in their extacy. Vallandygum fell onto his neck, but the spot where his hand struck the General, obliterated "West Virginny," another delegate now blotted out "Stone River," and the next embrace bustid "Iuka," "Chicamauga," and the rest of it. An anshunt delegate from Holmes county, which had taken an active part in the resistence to drafts, slyly drawed his sword and threw it away; another delegate hacked orf his spurs; a third snaked orf his epilets, and, before the poor fellow knew wat wuz bein done to him, they hed gobbled pretty much all uv the ornaments wich hed glittered so bravely unto him.

"Don't—for Heven's sake, don't!" ejackilated one who wuz a candidate for a county offis in a close county. "Wat are you doin?"

"These things must come orf uv him to make him soceptable to our people," and they eagerly stripped orf one thing after another.

"Git out uv the way, there!" shouthd another party comin up, "put these resolooshens onto him and he's ready."

They clapped em over him—he staggered and gasped, but managed to stand up.

"For Heven's sake!" he said, in a pleading tone, "for Heven's sake take this orf."

"Impossible!" returned them wich hed the matter in hand. "You'r all rite now—stand aside, all uv yoe; and see how the people take him now."

They stood aside

Meek's Travels Again---A Word to Honest Democrats.

Did you ever throw a stone into a hornet's nest? If you did you can form a pretty correct idea of the sensation created last week when the REPUBLICAN made its appearance and was read by the "unwashed" and "unterrified" members of the "Court House Ring." MEEK, the king hornet, and the immediate cause of all the trouble, turned pale, and trembled like an aspen leaf, fearing that those whom he had slandered, maligned and villified, would pour out the indignation of their wrath upon him in the shape of sundry blows and kicks. To avert the coming storm; to ward off the castigation that he so justly merited at the hands of those he had betrayed, he was compelled to lie, and did most earnestly and vociferously assert that he had not been in Millheim at all, and consequently the story of his travels as published in our last week's issue was false, and were the imaginings of the fertile brains of the REPUBLICAN Editors.

But on the second visitation of his friends he was compelled to acknowledge that he had been in Millheim.—This put another phase upon the whole matter, and those whose names were given in the colloquy between MEEK and his Penns Valley confidents, began to look upon him as the betrayer of his friends, and the report of his travels as given by us, as substantially true. And although we were threatened to be knocked to that country that is hotter than Mississippi; no harm did befal us, from the fact that, together, we weigh 360 pounds.

With this preface, let us proceed to give a few more facts in relation to MEEK'S travels, and the causes which induced him to be a candidate for re-election.

Everybody knows JAMES BURNS, familiarly called "JIM." Well, some three or four weeks since, "JIM," the distinguished lobbyist and Legislative borer paid Bellefonte a visit. No man knew his business. Ostensively he had none. Secretly, however; he housed himself with P. G. MEEK and a few other chosen spirits that always can be trusted when money is to drop into their itching palms. And oh, how itchy! They could hardly wait to hear the wiley JAMES divulge his plans. To be in Harrisburg next winter would be a "big thing." Huge schemes were in contemplation. Money would necessarily flow free as the waters in the mountain brook: but it would require somebody sharp to aid the distinguished lobbyist to turn it to account. In his opinion MEEK was sharp and must be sent back for the third time. In connection with this, the delegate to the Democratic State Convention must go for CASS and not for PACKER. The nomination of PACKER wo'd never do. In accordance with this plan, so secretly and so nicely laid, the delegate did go to Harrisburg and voted for CASS every time. But MEEK was hedged in on every side. He had not thought of being a candidate until urged by his partner, JAMES the wise. He was partially committed to Mr. LIPTON, Dr. DOBBINS and others. They were in his way. Impossible for him to be nominated along with so many others from Bellefonte. But with an eye, like JUDAS of old, to the money bags of the corruption ring at Harrisburg, he was not long in perfecting his plan. Dr. DOBBINS, J. H. LIPTON and CHRIST. KELLER must be disposed of, betrayed, villified and sold out, if needs be.

The trip to Penns Valley was planned, and MEEK, burning with ambition, and filled with ingratitude, sharper than a serpents tooth, he started on his journey. What PETER did while on his pilgrimage was graphically portrayed by us in our last issue. We did not give it all; but all we gave was true. The men with whom PETER conversed, and the honest Democrats of Penns Valley, can easily understand why he would become indignant at the very idea of Col. LOVE being a candidate for the Legislature. LOVE for the Legislature! "a Loop fossil," as GRAY was pleased to term him—was, in his estimation, supremely ridiculous. The Col. must, therefore, be throttled—nipped in the bud. It took argument to convince Judge HOSTERMAN, hence the long tirade on Col. LOVE. Will Col. LOVE, believe MEEK, or Judge HOSTERMAN? Judge HOSTERMAN, honorable, upright man, as we are wont to believe he is, will say today, that the conversation between him and PETER, as given by us, is substantially true. Deny it, PETER, if you dare, and we will overwhelm you with testimony.

Dr. DOBBINS, J. H. LIPTON and CHRIST, KELLER were all Bellefonters. If either of them should be nominated it would give too many nominees to Bellefonte, and thus ruin PETERS chance, and blast the last hope of his friend "JIM," the lobbyist.—Hence his vile abuse of DOBBINS, LIPTON and KELLER. Here, again, we place Judge HOSTERMAN on the witness stand, and he will say that the report given by us, of MEEK'S abuse of the three men above named, is substantially true.

What he said of them, we published, giving it as his, knowing that it could not injure Dr. DOBBINS &c., with the Republicans, for no Republican in the county would believe PETER G. MEEK on his oath.

With PETER forced to the wall, and with these facts before you, we say settle your own little difficulties among yourselves, and do not complain of us for informing you fairly of MEEK'S treachery and hypocrisy. It was MEEK'S opinion of these men we published, not our own. If MEEK had said Doc. DOBBINS and others, were gentlemen, we would have been compelled per force to believe the opposite, upon the ground that "A liar is not to be believed when he does tell the truth." Therefore, we say again, that it was PETER that aimed his venomous shafts at these candidates, and not us. Well may each of these men exclaim with OTHELLO in the play,

"I will be hanged, if some eternal villain,
Some busy and insinuating rogue,
Some cogging cozening slave, to get some office
Have not devis'd this slander."

The facts, as given by us, in regard to his conversation in Millheim, and the number of men attacked by him, are substantially true. We dare and defy him to deny the main points—Why did he not deny the facts, as stated by us, in the last number of the Watchman?

We did not attack the private character of PETER; we simply exposed his betrayal of his friends and fellow-partizans. He failed to deny the statement, and, like an infernal ghoul, set loose from hell, attacked our private character, to hide his own rottenness, crime and corruption. But this is MEEKISH.

He made another trip to Pennsvalley on Friday last, and repeated his slander on JAS. H. LIPTON, and we can prove it. We have not space for further developments; but we have unmasked the hypocrite, and left him in his native ugliness. Honest Democrats, what do you think now of P. G. MEEK, the slanderer of your friends and his—the convicted liar—the treacherous villain that can smile, and murder while he smiles, and wet his cheeks with artificial tears, and frame his face to all occasions?

We care not for his slander. He has villified better men than we. The martyred LINCOLN; the heroic and successful GRANT; A. G. CURTIN, his friend and liberator from the den in which his treason placed him, and every honest christian minister, and christian institution in the land, have been more or less maligned by this vile and contemptible scoundrel.

If honest men in the Democratic party must be thrust aside to make room for such a man as PETER, and if the honest masses of the Democratic party will submit to his dictation, and the dictation of the Court House ring, then we say, with BYRON,

"Life's a poor play'r; then 'play out the play,
Ye villains!' and above all, keep a sharp eye
Much less on what you do than what you say:
Be hypocritical, be cautious, be
Not what you seem, but what you are.

MEEK says "the Senior Editor will want but one notice from the Watchman." No decent man would want more than one notice in such a low, vulgar sheet. Before Mr. MEEK gives us that notice, however, we give him warning, for the sake of his family, to get his friend LIPTON to hide away the Record of the Criminal Courts of Centre county. Do this, not only for your own sake, but for the love you bear some of your very near and dear relatives. Oh, that record! Perhaps a good dumpling would cool you down.

MEEK says we squandered our wife's means. Will MEEK please tell his readers, and the people of Centre co., what he did for his wife? Will he tell? Shame, MEEK. Oh! shame,

A MAN who commenced his career as a churn peddler, pick-pocket and dealer in counterfeit money, is not the man to call his neighbor a thief.

Meek Proved a Slanderer by his Own Correspondent.

SHERIFFALTY.—As the time approaches for holding the County Convention, it is not more than right to discuss cursorily, the qualifications of the different gentlemen for the same, and also for the different offices within the gift of the people of Centre county. By the way we have plenty of candidates. Will they all render full service for the compensation they are to receive? Or do they think the pay more than service rendered? Something, sir, that makes men so greedy for office. How they do bore the good people, even to intolerance, and how basely one candidate misrepresents his fellow competitor.—They are not brotherly. One office seeker will assert that his most formidable competitor will run as an independant candidate—should the former be successful in convention? Another proclaims long and loud that his opponent has been at the public crib long enough, and so on through the whole catalogue of charges, falsehoods and crime. Magnanimous men.

The above communication, copied from the Watchman of last week, and fairly presumed to be written at about the same time, and containing allegations about the same upon which the editorial of our last week's issue was based, and coming from the same locality, or neighborhood, shows that our reporters have not misrepresented the facts in relation to the conduct of Mr. MEEK and others of the Democratic candidates.

So far as we are concerned, the opinions of these Democrats of each other, do not affect us, except that, as illustrating the fact that men who descend to the lowest blackguardism in fighting each other for nominations, ought not to be regarded when they use the same lies and billingsgate against their opponents. P. GRAY MEEK has so long been in the habit of using the lowest, dirtiest, falsest, and meanest of epithets, alike unsupported by facts or anything like an argument worthy the name, that when he found it his interest to go out and secure a nomination, involving the defeat of men he had pledged himself to assist and support, he could not think of any other way of accomplishing his object, than to attack, personally, and malign the men whose nominations he did not desire.

The contemptible slanders heaped upon Dr. DOBBINS, CHRIST. KELLER, J. H. LIPTON and Capt. JNO H. MORRISON, and published by us in our last week's issue, and the truth of which he dare not deny, are so palpable that even his own correspondent, writing from the scene of his efforts, has shown up the just indignation of MEEK'S supporters there, and proved the truth of all we said about his travels.

By publishing what he intended to be privately used, and making known the facts of the Democratic canvass for nominations, we have, indeed, made some sensation, and incurred some criticism; but if Democrats thus slander, abuse, villify each other, why kick up a row when we make it known? Not one of the allegations made by MEEK in his travels, have ever been made by us.

However, we have published scarce one-half of what we have received, on the best of both Democratic and Republican authority, as to the abuse of each other by these Democratic aspirants, and we still mean to tell what they say of each other. All that the correspondent of the Watchman says, is true, and much more is true.

MANY of our citizens being curious to know how Brown, of the Bellefonte Republican, takes his awful castigation in this week's Watchman, and who are expecting to hear of personal violence and libel suits, will be surprised to hear that he only laughs at it. A brave and sensible man, that Brown. —Quid Nunc.

The above we copy from a spicy daily paper, published by the KINSLOE BRO'S, in Lock Haven.

Cowhide MEEK! Bring an action against MEEK for libel! What folly! He is already a convicted liar. And, to cowhide him, you would have to catch him first. Before his paper was circulated, he left the town, and went into Pennsvalley to prevail on the men there to lie him out of his dirty betrayal of LIPTON, DOBBINS and KELLER, and since he returned, we understand he has kept himself under his wife's bed. Cowhide MEEK, forsooth! No; he has not character enough for us to meddle with in that way. We will simply tell the truth on him, and, by so doing, "place a whip in the hand of every honest man to lash the scoundrel naked through the world."

MEEK talks about jail-birds. Has he forgotten the time when Capt. A. B. SNYDER arrested him, charged with the highest crime known to the law—treason against the Government? Has the contemptible little copperhead traitor forgotten how the tears, as large as "fall pipins," rolled down his cheeks, as he left our town to be incarcerated in a cell in Harrisburg? Has he forgotten—ungrateful wretch—that he owes his liberty, and all he has, to the Republican party—A. G. CURTIN, and others, whom he has since so shamefully abused, betrayed and libeled?

MEEK says we graduated in the gutter. The trouble with MEEK is, he never graduated anywhere. Brought forth in iniquity, trained from his youth to practice falsehood and hypocrisy he has reached that point in the life of the villain and outcast, that he has not sufficient brains or character left to graduate even from the schools of vice. A lickspittle, a tool and a vagabond he must, therefore, forever remain. His hand against everybody, and everybody's hand against him.

A MAN who attempts to shoot off his finger, or cripple himself, so as to enable him to evade the draft, is not the man to call his neighbor a coward.

The "National" Printing Office.

As the Watchman has published the simple assertion that the sale of this paper was the best evidence he had to produce, to convince the people of "Radical hard times," and as the country is full of false rumors in relation to the facts that led to the sale, by the Sheriff, we give the following, and if MEEK can make any political capital out of them, he is welcome:

The paper and office was purchased from Mr. KURTZ at $5,000 nearly a year ago, by the Messrs. KINSLOES.—They gave to BLANCHARD, BEAVER, and the others, a judgment note for $5,000, and were to receive $1500 cash to pay to KURTZ, and the endorsement of their notes for $3,500 payable in four years. The first $1500 was not paid, however, but about $900 of it was furnished, and Mr. BLANCHARD endorsed another note for the balance, on which suit was brought and judgment obtained, and bail entered for stay of execution.

The men owning the $5,000 judgment held it back, and negotiations were opened with us to merge the papers. We offered to undertake the payment of the four notes for the Press office, allowing them to remove the property of the old Advertiser office which had been put into the concern at a valuation of $1500.

Several meetings were held, but no reply was given to our proposition. On Monday morning, the 12th inst., however, Mrs. KINSLOE, mother of the proprietors, entered up a judgment of over $1500, issued execution, and levied on the office. The endorsers then entered up their $5,000 judgment and issued, and also sent it to Lock Haven and levied on the Quid Nunc, which, being appraised under KINSLOES' plea of the $300 exemption, was returned as worth less than that sum, and returned to them. The property here, was sold in bulk, on the 19th inst., for $3,100, and will be held by the endorsers, and the paper go on.

We presume this is a temporary arrangement, and the National will be sold by its present owners. We regret we cannot buy so extensive an establishment just now, but will try to make up for that by increasing the size, and improving the value of the Republican.

WHO ART THEY?—One of the resolutions adopted by the Democratic State convention reads as follows:

"That our soldiers, and sailers, who carried the flag of our country to victory, must be gratefully remembered, and all the guaranties given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution."

The question has been raised, What soldiers refered to, the rebel or the Union soldiers? The fact that Frank Hughes, one of the most notorious rebel sympathisers in this State, is the author of the resolution would seem to leave little room for doubt that it is the gray backs who are ment by "our" soldiers; and this opinion is confirmed by the vote cast for the soldiers who were candidates before the convention, which vote stood as follows:

Hancock 21 McCandles 5.—Valdette.

THE Richmond Enquirer, which ought to be high authority, repudiates the idea that the result of the Virginia election is a Democratic victory. It says: "The Democratic papers at the North have committed "a very grave error in ascribing this "great victory to the Virginia Democracy."

"There has been no such party in this "State for eight years, and its very "bones have rotted, and now crumble "at the touch. No resurrectionary pro-"cess could bring that party to life, and "its ashes lie mingled with, and undis-"tinguished from, that of the Whig "party." The old hacks in Penn'a, who are endeavoring to put new life into the rotted bones of the party, are not expected to circulate the Enquirer as a campaign paper.

THE Democratic papers, for the want of a better reason, are attacking Governor Geary because he is a Temperance man. What sensible man would prefer; a drunken attorney to transact his business a besotted physician to attend his family, when dangerously sick: an inebriated minister to preach the gospel to him; a dissipated financier to have the control of his money, or a drunkard to preside over the State? Gen. Geary is a Christian gentleman; and to be either a Christian or a gentleman, it is universally conceded that a man must be sober. And we might add he can not be a Democrat.

PACKER is worth fifteen or twenty millions of dollars and the cops expect his money to elect him. They have always been the upholders of a monied aristocracy. It is not long since they upheld the doctrine that capital should own labor. They have since undertaken to play the role of poor man's friend, but that is only for effect. Their aristocratic preferences will crop out in spite of all their efforts to hide them for a season. Packer owes his nomination to his money alone.

MEEK should never call any person a liar. First, because it is the blackguard's argument, and unparliamentary; and, secondly, because he is a convicted liar himself. It is true the jury did not bring in a verdict of guilty; but they made MEEK pay the costs, thus declaring that he was an infamous liar; had, shamefully, wilfully and maliciously lied about the Dickenson Seminary, and he should, therefore, pay four or five hundred dollars for so doing.

MEEK talks of people betraying their party. Who went into Pennsvalley at the bidding of the great lobbyist, and betrayed, villified and sold out Dr, DOBBINS, CHRIS. KELLER and J. H. LIPTON? MEEK, thou art the man. Deny it if you dare. You are a meaner wretch than Judas Iscariot ever was. Had you lived in his day, you would have taken his place, and betrayed the world's Redeemer for half the sum Iscariot received. Like Judas, you should get a rope and hang yourself.

ASA PACKER, like the Hon. Henry W. Williams, is a native of Connecticut. Will the papers which two years ago raised the cry of carpet-bagger against our distinguished candidate continue their howl? We have a Yankee now on both tickets, the only difference being that on the Democratic one he leads. Will the Democracy continue their assault on New England and New England politics?

WE do not like to throw mud and filth; but, before P. G. MEEK comes at us with that threatened crusher of his, we would, in a friendly way, advise him to clean up his own, and his family record. Was ever stench so foul, or record half so black and damning? "Lay on, Macduff," &c.,

A MAN who drinks more or less whiskey every day, who has so little character and self-respect as to get drunk, go to a negro ball, act the blackguard and get kicked out, is surely not the man to assail his neighbor's character for sobriety and decency.

MEEK talks about thieves. Will he please tell his readers what he stole from GEO. W. MEEK? Will he dare tell who stole, or was charged with stealing a certain horse in Half Moon?

MEEK says we are poor. He that spake as man never spake, hath said, "Blessed are the poor for they shall inherit the earth."

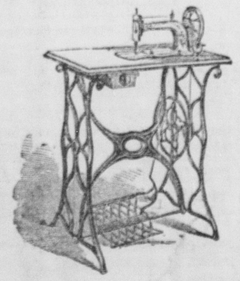
SEWING MACHINE.

THE SINGER SEWING MACHINE.



Among sewing machines, those made by the Singer Manufacturing Company, rank with the highest. Their manufacturing machines, have long been known as the best for manufacturing purposes. But within the past few years, they have given special attention to the production of a

destined to win much favor in the HOUSEHOLD.

The machine which they now offer is quiet, light-running, simple, fast, noiseless. Its accessories for are simple and easily understood. Its delicate though enduring and tireless muscles of iron and steel, do all the work noiselessly, better, and few will deny, "Faster than hand can do it." They urge those wishing to purchase a machine, to examine all the other manufactures before buying, as it will, for itself, overcome all the objections to the other machines that can be brought against it. AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

HARVEST RECEPTION.

The next Fall Session of this Institution will commence on Monday, the 30th day of August, and continue sixteen weeks. Students to report at the College the preceding Thursday. The charge for the session is $70, including Instruction, Boarding, Washing and Fuel. Lights, Furniture and Books to be provided by the Student.

The Spring Term of 24 weeks, will close on the 29th of the present month. Though the number of students has been small, the experiment of combining Study with Work, has been successful; this success being due as much to the absence of the confusion caused by a crowd of new and undrilled students at the opening, as to the energy and cheerful co-operation of the small number on the roll. The aid has been so hearty and effective, that this public mode is gladly embraced to express thanks for the support thus afforded. With light working details, full spring crops have been put into the ground, the garden has been attended to, much ornamental planting done, and some other improvements effected. At equal pace, the studies and duties of the College proper have been carried on; and now, at the close of the term, the pleasant conviction is experienced, that mind and body can both be healthfully and usefully trained sound moral habits impressed, and young men of practical science, as well as sound scholarship in general literature, sent forth to the work of life.

This institution makes no parade of the long list of 'ologies, 'onomics and 'graphies which grace some catalogues; neither does it boast of any incredible number of professors actual, expected, special, honorary and occasional, but with a sufficient number of competent instructors, all of whom are capable in their respective departments, and citizens of the State, it undertakes to give sound instruction in every branch of literature, science and practical art pertaining to its class, which any father may desire for his son, and which that son may come prepared to receive. Beyond this no promise is made.—This shall be fulfilled.

Not many citizens of the State know of the existence of this Institution, and very few are aware of its large capacity and adaptedness to meet the great educational want of the day—that of imparting thoro' knowledge in all the useful branches, practically as well as theoretically. The Trustees and officers, feeling the effect of this general want of information and appreciation, have decided to invite and even challenge inspection of the institution on the part of the public. Accordingly,

A HARVEST RECEPTION will be held at the College the last week of the present term, from Monday the 26th till Saturday the 31st of July. During that time the building and grounds will be open to visitors who may desire to know the nature and condition of the Institution, and inform themselves as to its future prospects. Especially will old graduates, the parents of present students, persons desirous of sending students the next term, and editors of papers, be welcome.—Plain fare and clean beds will be provided without charge, and every effort made to render the visit agreeable.

Trains leave Tyrone, on the Penna. R. R., daily, at 9 a. m., and Lock Haven, on the Phil'a. and Erie R. R. about the same hour, for Bellefonte by the Bald Eagle Valley R. R., where they arrive in time for the daily stage to the College.

JOB WORK.—Posters, Circulars, Bill Heads, Cards, Paper Books, Job Work of all kinds, neatly executed at the REPUBLICAN OFFICE, at reasonable rates.

READ.—The attention of our readers and friends is invited to the several new advertisements.

SAVE MONEY.—If you want posters, circulars, bill heads, cards, paper-books, first-class job work, plain or fancy, call at the REPUBLICAN office. All work done at Philadelphia prices.

A MONSTER.—Samuel S. Gray, one of the most enterprising farmers of Half Moon tp., raised a steer, and fed it only a short time before he sold it to B. V. Black, Esq., of this city. It weighed, on foot, 2200, and dressed net 1138 lbs. Can any of our farmers beat that? If so, we would like to hear from them. Mr. Black makes it a point to buy only the best of cattle.

FARM FOR SALE.—Persons desiring to purchase a first rate farm, should call at, once, at the REPUBLICAN office, or upon Bond Valentine, Esq. This farm contains about 195 acres, forty acres of which are meadow. The buildings—house, barn and out-buildings—are all the very best. It is located about 1½ miles from Bellefonte. There is a great bargain in this farm. Farmers desiring a first class farm, should call and see it. Terms easy.

NE PLUS ULTRA.—Persons wishing to see what a job of first-class plastering looks like, should call and examine the work at Daniel Garman's brick addition to his Hotel, or the splendid mansion erected by Wm. F. Reynolds, on Allegheny street. The plastering in both these buildings was done by O. B. Lambert and O. W. Vanvalin. We have seen, and noticed in our columns before, work that we thought could not be beaten. But we must confess that the work above referred to surpasses any thing we have yet seen in Bellefonte. We are pleased to see the desire on the part of our mechanics to excell each other in the character of their work. It is creditable to the mechanic, while it secures good work for the employer. Lambert & Co., so far, appear to hold the trump card. People wishing plastering done, should give them a call.

THE BROCKERHOFF HOUSE.—The Brockerhoff House, Housenl & Krom, Proprietors, is one of the best and most justly celebrated Hotels in Central Pennsylvania. Its table is not excelled by any hotel in the State. The rooms, beds and bedding are all the very best. It is, in every sense of the word, a first-class house.

We were led to these remarks upon seeing an article in the Lock Haven Quid Nunc, which does Messrs. Housenl & Krom great injustice. While it is not our fight, nor, indeed, our business, we think a word of advice to our friends the Kinsloe Bro's, not out of place. It is this: While in your anxiety to bring your spicy little paper into the notice of the public, you should be careful not to overdo the thing. And while you have a perfect right to praise any person, or hotel you may see proper, you have no right to speak disparagingly of, or to libel others. Such conduct will not pay.

THE MINERS IN LUCK.—Our old friend, J. S Sommerville, has invented a Miner's Lamp, for the purpose of burning the Danforth Petroleum fluid. It is not necessary for us to go into detail in describing the lamp. Suffice it to say that each miner can, by the use of these lamps, and the Petroleum fluid, save from two to three dollars per month.—The Snow Shoe miners, we are informed, have thrown away their old lamps, and now use none but Mr. Sommervill's patent. Truly, wanders never cease. And a saving of $2. per month is not to be sneezed at.

May, Loeb & Co., at Snow Shoe, and Loeb, May & Loeb, of Bellefonte, own the right to sell the Petroleum fluid in Centre, and Clearfield counties. We congratulate Mr. Sommerville on his invention, and hope that May, Loeb & Co. may succeed in giving the people of the above named counties plenty of light.—More light is what we need; especially in Clearfield county. "Let there be light!"

BURIED IN ONE GRAVE.—A very singular occurrence happened on Saturday, the 17th inst., near Mill Hall, Clinton county, Pa. The facts, as we learn them from our reporter, are as follows: A man about 65 years of age, named John Carr, and his wife, about the same age, lived near Mill Hall. They both died on last Saturday afternoon, under very singular circumstances. Mrs. Carr had been afflicted with an eating cancer on the breast for over two years, keeping on its terrible and fatal course all the time, until death relieved her, on the 17th inst., as above stated. Mr. Carr had been very feeble, and in bad health, for some years. Some time ago he had something like a stroke of palsey, which entirely disabled him. He lingered and suffered until last Saturday, about forty minutes after the death of his wife, when he also died.—They were very poor people, and, for some time, were mainly supported, to the credit of the congregation be it said, by the Presbyterian church at that place.—Of this church they had long been exemplary members.

On Sunday, the 18th inst., they were buried in the same grave. Together they spent their younger days; they enjoyed the pleasures of middle age together; suffered in poverty, sickness and distress together; died together, and were buried in the same grave together; and, it is hoped and believed, by all who knew them, that together they entered a blissful eternity, to go out no more forever. They had no children.

Our Western Letter.

CHICAGO, July 21, 1869.

DEAR REPUBLICAN:—In Mr. Slang's dictionary, among many other beautiful and expressive words and phrases, we have "red-hot." If interrogated on the subject, I think Mr. Slang would tell you that this phrase originated in Southern Illinois; for if there is a "red hot" country on earth, it surely is Southern Illinois. I was down there some days since—down in Egypt, "ferninst" St. Louis. Notwithstanding the good deality of the rain, I found it so hot that I could scarcely maintain my equilibrium. I think "old sol" gets nearer the earth in that section, than any place I ever saw. He certainly has a warm side for the "Egyptians." So has the cholera bug. What's a cholera bug? I'll tell you all I know, and that is that the cholera bug is a—cholera bug; that's all. It is about the size of the point of a cambric needle, one-eighth of an inch beyond the point. I never saw a more friendly kind of bug. They stick a "heap" closer than a brother, or even a brother's wife, or a cousin. In fact, they are almost too familiar on short acquaintance—like some people you have seen. They don't generally await formal introduction; but have a way of introducing themselves.—They approach a stranger in a very feeling manner. You can't help but feel for them; but they aint always there when you feel for them. They don't send up their cards when they call, nor do they wait their turns, but come regardless, and come in flocks, They don't seem to care whether you want their company or not. In this respect, they remind me of some people I have seen; people who, like a sore thumb, are always on hand at the wrong time; people who, like "biles," come just when and where you least expect or desire them. Whether these bugs ever get the cholera or not, I am not prepared to say; but I know they get cusses enough to give them almost any kind of disease. They are unfortunate little cusses. They have "no one to love, none to kress," leastwise, the caresses they receive are not very loving. I have seen many persons, however, take them into their arms; others take them into their eyes, nose, ears, mouth, or, in fact, any place they happen to light, which they are almost certain to do. I never saw one that didn't light. These bugs are a great nuisance; but are not half so bad as many of the people who inhabit that section of country. Regular Jayhawkers; many of them are from Missouri, and more from "Old Kaintuck." They have an overstock of ignorance, and no good breeding, though they seem to be good breeders, judging from the number of youngsters to be seen. I saw one woman with nine small children on foot, one at the breast, and several wards not heard from. The children, too, are "dreap smart," in this section. Sitting in front of the "Tavern" one evening, in conversation with a gentleman, we overheard some ragged urchins mention "the graveyard." The gentleman asked them if they had a "graveyard" at that town? "O, yes;" replied a dirty little "urch," but we had to shoot a fellow like you to start one."

The "taverns" in this section are a good deal like the bugs and people—only worse. They are of the worst class, and the first of their class. The buildings are not so massive as some I have seen, though the architecture is of the Greecian style. Others are decidedly Doric in appearance, rather barn-door ic than otherwise. I saw but little of the Corinthian and Ionic order, and but few interlacing arches, clustered columns, and the like. There is, however, plenty of "open work" about most of them. The "square meals" at these hotels are not as square as some I have seen, nor the beds the most downy. I slept on one at Odin which was most down before morning. Guess the bugs eat the ropes off, or pushed the slats out of place, for the "tick" was on the floor in the morning. The bugs are first-class, if nothing else is; and they have first-class appetites, "you bet."

Went to one of these "taverns" one night, on the recommendation of a friend, who said it was a "nice quiet place.—On entering, I saw the landlord, barefooted and coatless, fast asleep on a chair. In the distance sat two matronly-looking women, (i. e., they were old.) on their heads were old fashioned caps, and in their toothless mouths were pipes; above their heads rose in clouds smoke, fragrant with "dorg-leg" tobacco. In the room, where reposed this interesting old man, and these festive female women, was an old table, a few broken chairs and a box. There was also a rude bar and another nigger. On the bar stood a tallow "dip," by whose dim light I saw upon the wall a picture of "Geo. Washington, the father of his country," "Gen. Jackson at New Orleans," and a large 14x18 steel engraving, on wood, of the "landing of the pilgrims." Against the wall, too, hung a large looking-glass frame, in the upper part of which was the "picture" of somebody's "meetin" house, under which was a piece of broken mirror. On a knotted string, on same nail, was suspended a large comb, with three teeth. While making my observations, one of the ancient aunties awakened the ancient uncle. Gazing on me with gentle fierceness, he inquired if I wanted a bed? I informed him that I was a lone traveller, and would like the bridal chamber, with a bed as "soft as do wny pillows are."—He lighted another "dip;" and called to the other nigger: "Here, you Jim, take this fellow to bed." Jim took me. Oh, such a room! I would like to describe; but I won't. I imagined I saw the bed moving. I asked Jim if that was the best bed house afforded. Jim said it was. I asked Jim if there was another house in town. Jim said there was. Said I, good bye, Jim, I'm sorry to leave you; but I can't be with you always; the best of friends must part. I parted, and went to the other house, after having embraced Jim and the landlord, and kissed the ancient aunts. As I wended myself away, I heard th om singing "shall we never more behold thee?" I told them I thought they wouldn't, as I saw a "light in the window for me" in another direction.—Then the old man tried to "rock me to sleep," but his rocks missed me, and I escaped.

I will leave Egypt, and come back to Chicago where, at present, business is very dull, with no hopes of it getting better. The general feeling of despondency which pervades the State, on account of the condition of the crops, tells heavily upon all branches of Chicago trade. The only men who seem to be in good spirits, are those who have grain cradles and reaping sickles for sale. In many places, farmers are obliged to cut all their grain by hand, the ground being so soft that to run a reaper is an impossibility. Reaper men have plenty of machines on hand, while the supply of cradles and sickles run out long ago.—Dealers have telegraphed all over the country, where a grain cradle is made, and are gathering them in, in lots, large and small, and selling them at enormous prices. I would rather have plenty of these cradles now, than Chicago real estate. Money seems scarce, and collections difficult. Borrowers, in many cases, are paying 1 and 2 per cent a month.

Everybody seems to be going to the Pacific this summer. Any number of excursion parties have left Chicago since the completion of the road through. Perhaps the most notable is Chicago's commercial excursion, a party of forty or fifty of her leading capitalists, bankers merchants and newspaper men. Mr. Joseph Mehill, of the Tribune, is one of the party. They are looking up Chicago's commercial interests, living high, and drinking catnip tea. I think that is what they took along to drink. It was some kind of "nip," at least. They called upon Brigham Young's wives, and were well treated by these strange women. I am not informed whether any of the party became converts to the Mormon faith or not. I hope not. It would be a rash undertaking to attempt to support two or more fashionable wives in Chicago.—One is enough, as fashions range now a-days. The party is now at San Francisco, having "high old time." The next excursion is to be a religious affair, looking to the conversion of the people along the route. They, too, will have a "high old time" before they get them all converted, for many of these people went from Chicago. EM QUAD.

For the Republican.

UNIONVILLE, July 24, '69.—Our harvest is about over; and, from all accounts, the farmers are well satisfied as to the result.

In a previous article I spoke of a meeting to be held to take into consideration the propriety of building a new schoolhouse. That meeting has been held, and with a satisfactory termination. We are to have the house, notwithstanding some severe opposition from a few old fogies. We must remember that we live in an age of improvement, and must go with the tide, or we shall go under. We will soon, I hope, dispense with our present old skin-freezing, cough-making graveyard-contributing house. A select school will be taught here this summer, beginning on the 9th of August, by Miss Cleaver, a teacher of acknowledged abilities, and extensive experience.

That little Peter G., of Bellefonte, honored us with his presence this week.—The 5 p. m. train stopped for him to get off. And soon he was in solemn meditation, with a very slim number of the faithful; and, judging from the appearance of his Mock and lowly countenance, was anything but satisfied with his visit. His two or three particular friends, in this part of the moral vineyard, think if he does succeed in getting the nomination to that little office, which is the sugar-teat of his existance, he will be badly defeated. TIBERI.

A GRAND AND MERITED SUCCESS.—We learn that so great has become the demand for Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy of late, that instead of grinding and preparing the ingredients which enter into its composition, in a common druggist's mortar, the proprietor has had to resort to a large set of French Bur Mill Stones, which are run by water power. When it is considered that it is but a short time since the remedy was discovered and put on sale, this may truly be said to entirely eclipse the success which has met the remedies of Ayer, Janes, Moffat Townsend, and the whole fraternity of proprietary medicine venders. Where there is such success, there must be some merit. It is for sale in almost every drugstore in the land, and is also sold largely and sent through the mail at sixty cents per package.—Buffalo Evening Post.

THE NEWSPAPER BORROWER.—We clip the following opinion of newspaper borrowers from one of our exchanges. That Editor has a poor opinion of "sich." We think he is a little too hard; but here is what he says:

"The newspaper borrower is, as a general thing, the meanest person in the community, (always except those who subscribe for a paper and don't pay for it,) and is entitled to none of the courtesies which honorable men love to extend to each other. The newspaper borrower would borrow a tooth brush, if he wasn't too mean to lose that portion of his dinner which remains between his teeth.

TAKE THE PAPER.—A very vigorous political campaign is now about to open. The nabob, Packer, against the honest and patriotic Geary. Let our friends see to it, that no man, rich or poor, is without the REPUBLICAN.

DODD'S NERVINE DID IT.

NEW LONDON, CONN., April 26, 1869.

REMEMBERED FRIEND:—I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—even faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DODD'S NERVINE without anybody advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted over three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of entere recovery. I have taken only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. Very truly, jy21'69 4w. MRS. I. S. NUTE.

BE CAREFUL WHAT MEDICINES YOU TAKE.

When you are exhausted by over-work of head or hand, and feel the need of something invigorating, don't drink whiskey nor any intoxicating thing, whether under the name strength to your weary body and mind as the whip gives to the jaded horse, and no more. Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to Nerve health, and are ALWAYS followed by DEPRESSING REACTION.

DODD'S NERVINE & INVIGORATOR

is a TONIC and GENTLE STIMULANT which is NOT attended by REACTION. What it gains for you it maintains. When it refreshes body or mind, it refreshes with natural strenght that come to stay. We are not recommending tetotalism in the interest of any faction; but long and extended observation teaches us that he who resorts to the bottle for rest or recuperation, will find, as he keeps at it, that he is kindling a fire in his bones which will consume like the flames of perdition. Turn from it. Take a tonic that will rerresh and not destroy. Dodd's Nervine is for sale by all Druggists. Price One Dollar. See book of Certificates that accompanies each bottle.

WEDNESDAY MORNING July 28, '69,

Stick to The Plow And The Plane.

Don't come to the city, my boy. Your chance, in the long run, is better where you are. Hundreds, indeed, make fortunes here, but thousands live wearisome and even suffering lives in the city.—Clerks have larger salaries than farmers, but then their expense of boarding, clothes, and amusements, are so much larger, that less is saved at the end of the year. Then the temptations of the city are so strong and so constant that few young men resist them. Not many young city clerks, even if they avoid bad company, are able early in life to have a home of their own. A young man in the country, soon after his time becomes his own, can secure capital enough, with an economical wife, to set up housekeeping for himself, and have a quiet comfortable, and even beautiful little home of his own. One of the wealthiest men in the vicinity of Boston, who died a few years since, said the happiest years of his life were passed when he was gathering, very slowly, the beginnings of his fortune. When he married he and his wife were worth, each, twenty-five cents, and they labored lovingly and happily together. This was certainly a very small fortune for two to commence upon, but they were worth hundreds of thousands when they died, gathered by economical labor. The writer knows an excellent young man in this city who is now nearly thirty. He has long been engaged to a young lady of fine talents and a good temper. It would be great comfort to both to be married; but then, his salary, although quite large, would not support them in the style of life to which the young woman has been accustomed in her own home. Besides, the position of clerks is very uncertain. By the failure of what was considered one of the strongest houses in the city, this young man was thrown out of place and salary for six months. Stick to the plow, then, or some solid, whole some trade. You will then be sure of a comfortable living. You can earlier have a home of your own, and you will be less exposed to the constant changes in business which destroy at one blow the earnings of years. —American Agriculturist.

SETTING OUT STRAWBERRY BEDS.—Strawberry plants can now be set out from the middle of August to the end of September. It is true August is generally a very warm and very dry month, but in case of the absence of rain the newly planted beds must be watered every day or two until they have become established.

The bed should not be in a damp situation or the soil heavy. Dig deep pulverize finely, and apply a pretty heavy dose of good barnyard manure. Let the devisions be about three and a half feet in width and as long as may be desirable. Set the plants about eighteen inches apart insert them in the ground firmly but not too deeply, and then keep clear of all grass and weeds.

As to the varieties, we should choose for our own planting the following: "Triumph," "Russell," and "Hovey," and if we wished another, Jucunda. They should be planted in this wise in making up a full bed, with half a dozen or a dozen divisions: 1 Triumph, 2 Jucunda, 3 Hovey, 4 Russell. In this way a fine crop is assured with as much certainty as anything can be. The last of November protect the plants with a light covering of straw the first year, after that if needed light manure may be substituted as a covering.

A half crop may be expected the first season. A mulch of straw cut two or three inches long will keep the ground moist and cool, which this berry likes, and smother the weeds. This should be applied the first part of April. An application of spent tan is also excellent.

SCRATCHES IN HORSES.—Our much-respected correspondent, Mr. Hiram Walker, of Oswego county. N. Y., says:—I have seen in the Country Gentleman lately several remedies for the cure of scratches, [or grease, as the English call it,] but all of them were for outward application and none for inward to work on the blood. Scratches in horses, like salt-rheum in persons, generally arise from an impure state of the blood. They generally come on in the fall of the year, when the horses are taken from grass to hay and are much used, and the mud not properly cleaned after their day's work is done. I have often tried outward applications alone, but could never effect a cure. The best medicine I ever tried is to take one pound of Epsom salts, half a pound of saltpetre, pulverize well, mix them together, and give a tablespoonful of the mixture every morning; wash the parts effected with Castile soap, rub dry and anoint with Dalley's horse salve, and you are sure of a cure. This mixture, while it works in and purifies the blood, is a mild diuretic, but will produce over stalling. This medicine will not take the horse from his daily work, but he should be kept from the storm, and not exposed to cold winds when warm.

A farmer in Ohio had a thrifty orchard which blossomed freely, but bore no fruit. He washed twelve of the trees once a week with strong soap suds, and was gratified by a fair harvest the subsequent season.

Lime will destroy sorrel,

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now comple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.
People who travel by other routes, and also people who, instead of traveling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.
Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality,

SEWING MACHINE.

AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE OVER-SEAMING AND SEWING MACHINE COMBINED.

MEDAL AWARDED AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.

In directing attention to the celebrated COMBINATION BUTTON HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE, we feel fully warranted in claiming for it unquestionable superiority over all others as a Family Machine.—The Simplicity, Ease and Certainty with which it operates, as well as the uniform excellence of its work, certainly place it far in advance of any other similar invention of the age.
It is also the cheapest, intrinsically, as well as the best, since it is really two machines combined in one, (by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement never before accomplished by human ingenuity,) making either the Lock Stitch or Button Hole Stitch, as occasion may require. It is, at the same time, simple in construction, comparatively noiseless, easily understood, and, in a word, it combines with those advantages exclusively its own the most desirable qualities of all others, for it not only does every variety of sewing in a SUPERIOR MANNER, but in addition OVERSEAMS splendidly and makes beautiful BUTTON and EYELET HOLES in all fabrics. This is far beyond the capacity of any other machine.
The SPLENDID MECHANISM of this Machine, and the superior skill workmanship and materials employed in its construction, are a guarantee of accuracy, strength and durability, and enable the company and its agents to Warrant Every Machine they sell to give entire satisfaction.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ON THE MACHINE GRATUITOUSLY.

Lessons may be taken if desired with a view to test the Machine, or to become better acquainted with it before deciding to purchase. Samples of work will be furnished upon application at

ON THE SHORTEST NOTICE.

This company is composed of practicable mechanics, and Samuel Adams, one of the Co., has been foreman of the Bellefonte Planing Mill since its commencement.

Connected with the mill, and in operation at all times, is one of the latest improved

COKE DRYING KILNS;

which leaves the lumber in a perfectly healthy state, assists in preserving it, and in fact adds to its lasting qualities, while other methods of drying deteriorate, and renders it more liable

TO DECAY AND WASTE.

Lumber dried in a Coke kiln, is dried perfectly, and when worked and put up, will not

SHRIVEL AND SHRINK,

thus giving buildings the appearance of having been erected out of Green Material
We know that our facilities give us every advantage over other

PLANING MILLS IN THIS SECTION

and we feel perfectly free in saying, that all our

WORK WILL BE GUARANTEED,

to be of

A SUPERIOR QUALITY.

We will furnish anything in our line from a door panel, to a

WHOLE HOUSE,

and at such prices, as cannot but prove to be an inducement to

THOSE DESIRING TO BUILD.

All orders promptly filled and a fair share of public patronage, respectfully solicited.
